SALT BANK CATCH*Of Lunenburg, LeHave and Mahone Bay Fleet for 1907.

The Lunenburg, N. S., salt bank fleet for 1907, consisting of 46 vessels, landed about 12,820,000 lbs., 872,000 lbs. more than last season.

The LeHave fleet of 39 vessels landed about 8,285,000 lbs., 982,000 lbs. short of last year. The Mahone Bay fleet of 10 vessels landed 2,530,000 lbs., 160,000 lbs. more than last year.

The combined catch of the three fleets for the season was 23,635,000 lbs., 53,000 lbs. more than the season of 1906. Owing to the poor fishery and scarcity of men for the past four years, the whole fleet consisted of only 95 vessels, 35 less than 1906. The fishing was good on all the banks, and the catch for those engaged was the best for a number of years.

Dogfish were quite numerous on the shore this season, but not as plentiful on the Banks as they were last season.
